CONCLUSION

The comprehensive audit of Sadhan Chandra Mahavidyalaya reveals a well-established institution dedicated to delivering quality education and fostering holistic development. The audit underscores the institution's strong foundation in clearly articulated vision, mission, and objectives, effectively communicated to all stakeholders. The curriculum, designed by affiliating universities, is robust, offering diverse Honours and General UG courses, complemented by various add-on certificate programs that enhance employability and skills.

A notable strength is the college's commitment to continuous improvement, evident in its stakeholder feedback mechanisms and mandatory project work in nearly all subjects. However, the introduction of new programs and expansion of skill-based courses are recommended to keep pace with evolving educational demands.

Teaching-learning processes at the college are well-structured, supported by a favourable teacher-student ratio and comprehensive mentoring and counselling services. The institution's use of ICT alongside traditional teaching methods reflects its adaptability and modern approach to education. The academic performance of students is commendable, with a significant percentage passing their exams. Nonetheless, there is a need to increase full-time faculty, enhance mentoring systems, and focus on improving student outcomes, particularly in the BA General program.

Research, consultancy, and extension activities form a pivotal part of the institution's profile, with active participation in seminars, development programs, and social initiatives through the NSS. However, promoting more research activities and mobilizing research funds are essential to foster a culture of academic inquiry and innovation.

The institution's infrastructure, though limited, is well-utilized. Expanding physical spaces, enhancing library resources, and increasing ICT-enabled classrooms are crucial for future growth. The library, sports facilities, and basic amenities need further development to meet the growing needs of the student population.

Student support services are robust, with substantial scholarship provision and grievance redressal mechanisms. Enhancing career counselling, monitoring student progression, and activating a placement cell will further aid in student development and employability.

Governance and management practices at the college are sound, with clear policy documents, regular training, and performance reviews. However, there is room for improvement in performance appraisal systems for all staff and resource mobilization efforts.

Institutional values and best practices highlight the college's commitment to sustainability and community engagement. Initiatives like waste management, gender sensitization, and environmental sustainability are commendable, yet introducing more alternative energy projects and facilities for physically challenged students can further enhance the institution's inclusivity and environmental responsibility.

In conclusion, Sadhan Chandra Mahavidyalaya is a dynamic institution making significant strides in various aspects of education and community service. Implementing the recommended improvements will further strengthen its position as a leading educational institution, dedicated to excellence and sustainable development.
